Costs

Students pay UR tuition, but not room and board, to UR for the semester abroad.

Students pay housing fees directly to the accommodation office of their host institution, or landlord, or real estate company, that provides their housing.

Students pay food costs themselves. Meals are “self-catered”, meaning that students shop and cook for themselves, and/or eat in student restaurants or cafeterias on the campus of their host institution.

Amounts below are listed in US dollars unless indicated otherwise. Refer to oanda.com to convert amounts given in foreign currency to US dollars.

Costs below are the best approximate average figures. Actual costs vary depending on personal preferences and habits.
